

October 12, 2015

New York Real Estate

By Sally Goldenberg

NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH—"A Changing West Village Landscape," by Times' Julie Satow: "For decades, the most famous building in the West Village was Westbeth, a massive blocklong former Bell Laboratories building that housed artists like Diane Arbus and Robert Beauchamp. ... Now comes the latest entry in this changing landscape. The Shephard, at 275 West 10th Street, at the corner of Washington Street, will open in 2017 with 38 apartments, with prices from $4.35 million for a two-bedroom to $29.5 million for a nearly 6,000-square-foot penthouse." <http://nyti.ms/1jp1IRh>